Billy Sunday's

Ten Commandments

The following civil phrases are collected from some of the most unwise and characterless points in Mr. Sunday's verbiage:

1. TIME SHALL NOT COVER.
There are those days to spread news—telephone, telegraph and automobile. The devil is so afraid of news of your women he wouldn't let it within twenty feet of you.
2. TIME SHALL NOT COVER.
That shall not cover the neighbor's cock, nor his automobile, nor his rubber tire carriage, nor his private yacht. Many a man would like to have his neighbor's wife. Yet let her live.
3. TIME SHALL NOT TALK.
I'm against that rotten, licentious, left-leggish dance just used from gift to gift to anything else. I'm in favor of everything the devil is against and I'm against everything the devil is in favor of.
4. TIME SHALL NOT BE SPOKE.
Some would be Christians are so angry that they would beat flies from a blind spider. There are others so mean that they slug through their noses to any and every man and his false teeth.
5. TIME SHALL NOT HAVE TWO MANS.
It's hard to feel a real motor, and a man doesn't want to marry a girl that's been passed over by every young man in the community. It's a crime to feel that that she is in a bad parlor until all hours of the morning with one after another is in the way of her.
6. TIME SHALL NOT BE COCKEY.
A convicted man like a cheap-cheap politician when everything is in the window and nothing on the table but hot air. Self-control will always be a nuisance around your neck.
7. TIME SHALL NOT DANCE.
The man who says, "Oh, drink and let it alone, he. No man ever tended to become a drunkard. Every drunkard started out to be simply a moderate drinker. If you believe you can leave it alone, why don't you?"
8. TIME SHALL NOT COPE.
One of the things that show the foundation of a man's character is his ability to keep his nose and vomit out. I would not trust a profane man any two feet in any situation.
9. TIME SHALL NOT DANCE TWO DANCE.
Some haven't religion enough to pay their debts. Would that I might have a look at for every debt that you left unpaid I might look of a piece of clothing! If I did, some of you would be left with a celluloid coat and a pair of socks.
10. TIME SHALL NOT FLEE.
Society takes note of flirtation on the street. It waits until the light has left her face. I wish I could make a girl who tries her best as others see her. If you make a girl at a man on the street will you pay back.

To Instal Big Plant to Reduce By-Products

Toronto, Ont., June 2.—The erection of a complete modern plant for the reduction of by-products of their mines is contemplated by the Crown. Nest Inc. (Ltd.) Co., Elias Rogers, the president, has been in England securing plans and specifications from the Simon-Carver Co., Limited, of Manchester, through Anglo-French builders by-product coke oven, for an up-to-date plant for the Crown's No. 1 property, and in the course of a week will leave for the west to go over them with the superintendent of the mines. As proposed, this development will cost between half a million and a million dollars, but Mr. Rogers states that the necessary capital will be forthcoming. It is expected that the foundations for the oven will be put in this fall, and the plant will be under operation next year.

The by-products which will be turned out will be sulphate of ammonia, ammonium liquor, benzol and tar. For the first three there will be a ready market. For the last mentioned it is probable that an additional plant for its further reduction may be required, in order to make it optically marketable. On present estimates it is expected that the net result of these operations will mean a saving of from $1000 to $1500 a day on the normal daily output of the mines. The utilization of all this waste material should have an important bearing on the profits of the company, which once the plant is running.

Mr. Rogers stated to the Financial Post that the company's indebtedness in New York had been reduced from $200,000, as shown in the annual statement, to $100,000. One-third of this amount was paid off between the publication of the statement and the annual meeting, and the balance more recently.

Mail for Prisoners of War

1 Letters (letters should be left open) prisoners and postal parcels should be addressed as follows:
(a) Rank, initials, name.
(b) Regiment or other unit.
(c) (If British, or Canadian, French, Belgian or Russian) prisoners of war.
(d) Place of internment.
(e) Germany.

Parcels of internment should be stated always if possible, and parcels cannot be accepted unless place of internment is stated. All addresses must be in ink. 2 Communications should be limited to private and family news and to necessary business communications, and should not be sent too frequently. No references to the naval, military or political situation or to naval or military movements and organizations are allowed. Letters or parcels containing such references will not be delivered. 3 Friends of prisoners of war are advised to send parcels in preference to letters as parcels are less likely to be delayed. If letters are sent they should not exceed a length of two pages. 4 Letters sent for the prisoner be accepted for registration. 5 Postage need not be paid either on letters or parcels addressed to prisoners of war. 6 No letters shall be enclosed in newspapers, magazines, post cards, or any other account. No far as is known there is no restriction on the contents of parcels; tobacco may be sent and will be distributed duty free, but food stuffs of a perishable character should not be sent. Parcels should not exceed 11 lbs. in weight. 7 Remittance can be made by money order to prisoners of war. Instructions as to how to proceed can be obtained from Postmasters of Accredited Post Offices. The transmission of money, letters or parcels is especially prohibited. Postal notes and bank notes should not be sent. 8 It must be understood that no guarantee of the delivery of either parcels or letters can be given and that the Post Office accepts no responsibility. In any case, considerable delay may take place and failure to receive an acknowledgment should not necessarily be taken as indication that letters and parcels have not been delivered. 9 So far as is known, parcels sent in Germany are allowed to leave before the war, from time to time, but they may not always leave facilities for doing so and the fact that no communication is received from them, need not give rise to anxiety.

The Way to Win

"Strike" while the iron is heated.
"Dance" add the iron is cold.
If you strike the iron is hardened plate The wheel will never hold.
"Seek" and success will follow:
"Wait" and it passes by.
Be quick to grasp, then hold it fast.
And trust for a better day.
"Work" and the world works with you.
"Loaf" and you loaf alone.
This strenuous world's a continuous whirl
It offers no place for the drone.
"Life" is an undertaking:
"Be bold" is a battle fought;
So let life's light illumine the night
With the deeds that you have wrought.

CANADIAN FARMERS ARE GAINING

ANALYSIS OF THE COST OF GRAIN PRODUCTION

The Necessity of Mixed Farming is Becoming More Pronounced and Investigations Carried on in Canada Show That Diversification Brings Greater Prosperity

Probably the most outstanding and acute problem for the farmer, and indirectly, the country as a whole, is in forecasting the result of a certain crop before it is planted. Few can do this. The greater the yield, for instance, the greater the price, for the crop, this is the more surprising when it is considered that with all the other crops the change in cost of production was practically nominal. The greatest change in profit per acre was in the case of wheat, where the profit per acre declined in production cost, fell off from $1.35 to $1.15, a loss of nearly 20 per cent. The loss in value per acre of this crop was $1.00, or 25 per cent.

Some interesting figures are presented showing the division of profit in the various crops. The profit in all areas was the cost of preparing the ground, which included the cost of plowing, disk, harrow and harrowing. There are little variations in the cost of preparing the ground, which was in the neighborhood of 40 per cent more than the average for the other crops. The cost of seeds and fertilizer was the second item in importance up to the harvesting time.

The cost of the seed was 56 cents for wheat, 51 cents for corn, 46 cents for flax, to $1.37 for corn. The cost of the seed was also more for corn, greater than for any of the others, being 46 cents per acre for wheat, 46 cents per acre for corn, and 72 cents per acre for flax. As a matter of fact, every item in the cost for the other crops except seed.

The second factor in the production cost sheet is that of rental value. The rental value of the land was 10 cents per acre for wheat, 10 cents per acre for corn, and 10 cents per acre for flax. The average value of the land in the different sections of the Dominion, ranging from 10 cents per acre in Alberta and Saskatchewan, to $1.67 in British Columbia.

In the latter, some surprising variations between the two years on which returns are made are shown. For wheat, the cost of production was 10 cents per acre in 1911 over 1911, and three cents per acre in 1912 over 1911. For corn, the cost of production was 10 cents per acre in 1911 over 1911, and three cents per acre in 1912 over 1911.

New Law Gives Self-Government to Poland

A new law gives local municipal self-government to all towns in Poland, a substantial step toward the promised emancipation.

The language question is settled on the common sense basis. Correspondence with State Department, for private persons, side Poland, must be in the common language of the State Department.

Municipal publication, similar publication must be in both languages in parallel. Debate on the speech of the president is obliged to be in the common language of the State Department.

The municipal autonomy now granted to Poland is a step toward the self-governance of Poland, which has been the dream of the Polish people for many years.

The new law is welcomed alike by Russian and Polish organs of public opinion.

LESS THAN FIVE HUNDRED MEN SAVED THE DAY

When an Overwhelming German Force Came Down on the British Lines, the Worcester Regiment Charged the Enemy, who Turned and Fleed in Confusion

Only now, after the lapse of some months, it is possible to tell the story of the 400 British soldiers who saved the day at the battle of the Somme.

The British held their line, but at a terrific cost; scores lay dead, and there was scarcely an unscathed man in the whole line of trenches.

The management of the Lyric theatre has decided to run a show three nights a week—Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday—until further notice.

The baseball match between Winders' "ink spreaders" and Fisher's "hungry" team was one of the best seen here for some time. Winders' team won out by 9 to 6.

The cricket match between Bellevue and Hillcrest on Saturday was rather one sided. The Bellevue team put up some good cricket. They made 64 and Hillcrest 16 for their share of the time.

D. R. McIvor, R. Webb and several others went out to attend the sale at Beaver Mines, but arriving there, were disappointed in finding that the sale had been postponed for a couple of weeks. James Turnbull, a well-known and former Blairmore boy, is now on his way to the front with 250 of the 9th from Edmonton. Mrs. D. Kepp, his sister, received a postcard from him yesterday, stating that he had reached Fort William.

Among the operations which will take place during the summer, we note Dr. Bruce Ross will study the geology of the Flathead and Getty and Red Deer areas. An examination will be made by Mr. F. H. McLean of sections of the Benton, Kootenai, Fernie and Blairmore formations of these areas, and fossils will be collected. Mr. J. S. Stewart will also have charge of a party under Dr. Ross's supervision studying the structure of the disturbed belt of the foothills south of the Old Man River.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC, CHOLERA AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY.

"Do You Know Joe Little's Dog?"

Joe Little's dog was the subject of a very important case heard in the city police court on Monday of this week. The case was brought about by the chief of police, who entered into an action against Joseph Little for allowing a vicious dog to run at large within the town limits.

Both sides of the case were defended by members of the legal profession, Mr. Gillis appearing for Mr. Little and Mr. Putnam for the town. Many witnesses were called for both the prosecution and defence, and practically everyone who had had the pleasure of being acquainted with that dog were obliged to give testimony.

From the evidence for the prosecution one would judge that the morals of that canine were not beyond reproach. The animal was evidently illiterate and a maniac. Councilor Roscoe stated that he knew Joe Little's dog, and did not consider him a desirable citizen. He had known the dog to be on the street at all hours of the day or night, irrespective of the curfew or any other by-law, and judging by the company that he kept the morals of that dog were not of a high standard.

Mr. Roscoe claimed that the dog was really vicious for he had known him to chase bicycles and automobiles with apparent intention of doing them harm. Joe Little's dog had spilt his dog for all time and he claimed that the animal must be a public nuisance for he had known him to chase a railway train, a steamship or an airplane. In conclusion he stated that he did not want anything of Tom Ede's breed or a brother of Putnam's.

Cross examined by Mr. Gillis, he never knew of Joe Little's dog ever attempting to chase a railway train, a steamship or an airplane. He did not know what was meant by the term "vicious," but thought that any animal that would chase a railway train without provocation must be a vicious animal.

Abraham Albert Sparks knew Joe Little's dog. Robert George Vincent knew Joe Little's dog. O. Lagore (ex-councillor) knew Joe Little's dog. George Patton knew Joe Little's dog and had the pleasure of assisting to arrest him and put him in the pound. He quite agreed with Webster's interpretation of the word "vicious."

Finlay Patterson knew Joe Little's dog and helped to imprison him. He did not know much about that dog's morals. He had known the dog to chase cows across the river and to violently bark at their heels.

We are always discovering new results of the war. The latest is the decline in popularity in all English-speaking countries of the name "William." A person thinks twice before adopting it for a baby nowadays. It is a great pity that the Kaiser has involved it in disgrace, for there are a lot of mighty silent fellows who have been known as "Bill"—E.

A case of great importance to all interested in irrigation in Western Canada was heard before Judge Hyndman at Calgary recently. The suit arose out of the contention of a farmer named Babcock, who claimed that land he had purchased from the Canadian Pacific Railway Company as irrigable land was not benefited by irrigation, and appealed to the courts for a revision of his land contract. The land in question is located in the C.P.R. irrigation block east of Calgary, and the object of the suit was to have all reference to irrigable land removed from the contract and the price refunded to that of non-irrigable land, and also to declare void the water agreement whereby the purchaser had agreed to pay an annual water rental of fifty cents an acre. The case occupied the attention of the court for three days, when Judge Hyndman, without calling for any evidence on the company's behalf, declared a non-suit, and dismissed the case with costs.

The decision is one of the utmost importance, not only to residents of the irrigation block, but to all who are interested in the agricultural development of Western Canada, as it must put an essential quietus on the organized campaign that has been carried on by a few dissatisfied settlers to discredit this company's irrigation enterprises. The result is hailed with much satisfaction by practical irrigators, who have contended all along that southern Alberta affords one of the most suitable fields for irrigation development on this continent.
